

A VICAR GENERAL'S FUNERAL.
THE REMAINS OF FATHER DUBREUIL INTERRED IN BALTIMORE—IMPOSING RELIGIOUS CEREMONIES.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.]

BALTIMORE, April 23, 1878

The interment of the remains of the late Vicar General Dubreuil took place this morning within the grounds surrounding St. Mary's Seminary of St. Sulpice in the presence of a large gathering of prelates, priests, seminarians and laymen of the Roman Catholic Church. The funeral ceremonies took place in the chapel attached to the institution. A plain coffin, with six iron handles, in conformity with the expressed wishes of the deceased, rested on a catafalque, which later, with the interior of the chapel building, was heavily draped in mourning, the gloomy surroundings being relieved by the beautiful floral tributes arranged in pillows and other funeral designs.

THE OFFICE OF THE DEAD.

At ten o'clock the divine office for the repose of the soul of a departed priest was commenced with psalm 94, "Veni exultemus Domine," consisting of three nocturns, nine lessons, selected from Job, and litanies. The lessons were recited by Rev. Fathers John, Superior of the Passionist Monastery; Brandstaetter, C. S. R.; Menz, of St. Charles' College; Rev. John Delaney, West Virginia; Rev. S. J. Murphy, of St. Peter's Seminary; Curate of the Cathedral; Rev. Mr. St. Charles' College; Leo, of the Cathedral, and Deane, Vice President of St. Mary's Seminary. The first part of the office was recited, and the lauds were said in the choir.

A RONTRAL HIGH MASS.

The reading and chanting of the "Officium pro Defunctis" occupied about an hour, after which the solemn pontifical high mass was begun by the Most Rev. Archbishop, Rev. P. P. Deane, president of St. Charles' College, as archdeacon; Rev. B. J. McNamee, of St. John's; and Rev. Edward J. Conroy, of St. Peter's, as deacons; Rev. Father John, Minister of St. Mary's Seminary, deacon of the Mass, and Rev. William E. Starr, of the Cathedral, sub-deacon. The officiating clergymen were clad in the dark vestments worn only in masses for the dead.

Archbishop Gibbons, who occupied a throne on the gospel side of the altar, wore the white mitre, which is symbolic of mourning as well as joy. Bishop Shanahan, Rev. Dr. O'Leary, and the reverend priests in the body of the church, among the clergy were Rev. Fathers McGivney, of Hartford; Michael, Peterson, and Rev. George and McDonald, of Brooklyn; Rev. Dr. Healy, President of Georgetown College; Dr. Walshe, President of Mount St. Mary's College, Pittsburgh; and all the clerical and ecclesiastical authorities, also the Compte de Courson and Comte Montebello, of the French Legation at Washington, and many prominent members of the laity of this and other dioceses.

At the conclusion of the mass the Right Rev. Bishop Keane, of Richmond, delivered a brief panegyric on the life and character of the illustrious dead. He said Father Dubreuil was at an eminent period in his life.

During the thirteen years of his life were spent in the ministry and eighteen years as president of the seminary. Archbishop Gibbons proceeded with the absolution at the end of the service, and the procession was formed and moved to the cemetery, in the northwestern corner of the grounds. The pallbearers were Rev. Fathers Foley, Gailey, Chapel, Jordan, Walter, McCoy, Malley, Didier, Griffin, Gloyd, James, Clarke, and others. The pall-bearers were observed and the body lowered to the tomb.

FUNERAL OF JOHN H. HALLETT.

Funeral services were held yesterday over the remains of the late John H. Hallett, whose death and long service in the Post Office were recorded in yesterday's HERALD.

One hundred and thirteen officers and employees of the Post Office, including Postmaster James and the Superintendents of depots and branch offices, left this city on the ten o'clock boat for Pleasant Valley, just below Fort Lee, where stands the mansion which had been occupied by Mr. Hallett for many years. The impressive funeral service of the Episcopal Church was held at eleven o'clock, the attendance being very large.

General surprise was expressed at the singularly lifelike expression of Mr. Hallett's countenance. The body lay in the parlors, the dining and living rooms, surrounded by an immense crowd of relatives, friends and acquaintances, presented by the Post Office.

The delegation of Post Office attachés returned to the city shortly after noon. All who could be spared from duty paid their respects to the services, and the casket was moved to the cemetery, in the northwestern corner of the grounds. The pallbearers were Rev. Fathers Foley, Gailey, Chapel, Jordan, Walter, McCoy, Malley, Didier, Griffin, Gloyd, James, Clarke, and others. The pall-bearers were observed and the body lowered to the tomb.

OBITUARY.

DR. GEORGE R. FIELDS.

Dr. George R. Fields, of this city, died at sea on the 19th inst. of paralytic apoplexy. He was a passenger on board the brig Britannia, Captain Hinckie, from the island of Trinidad to New York.

A native of Connecticut and a descendant of the famous Captain Cook, he inherited much of the adventurous spirit of that celebrated navigator. During the last twenty years he had been engaged in the direction of the superintendence of the Search and Inquiry Department. The burial will take place this evening in Greenwich, in the federal cemetery.

The services of the Baltimore Kennel Club were held yesterday at the Masonic Temple to-day. There was a fair attendance, including a number of ladies. The show is in all essential features a success.

Between three and four hundred dogs of nearly every species, from the tiny terrier to the monster mastiff, are on exhibition. Many of the hunting dogs are valued at high prices, quite a number ranging in price from one to five thousand dollars.

Nearly all the leading clubs throughout the United States and Canada are represented and all the dogs are in excellent condition.

Among the curiosities of the collection are two toy terriers—Bright and Beauty—in a rosewood case upholstered in velvet with gold trappings.

The committee made the first-day's award of premiums. Among those receiving prizes of money were the following:
